WORLD SCIENCE DAY

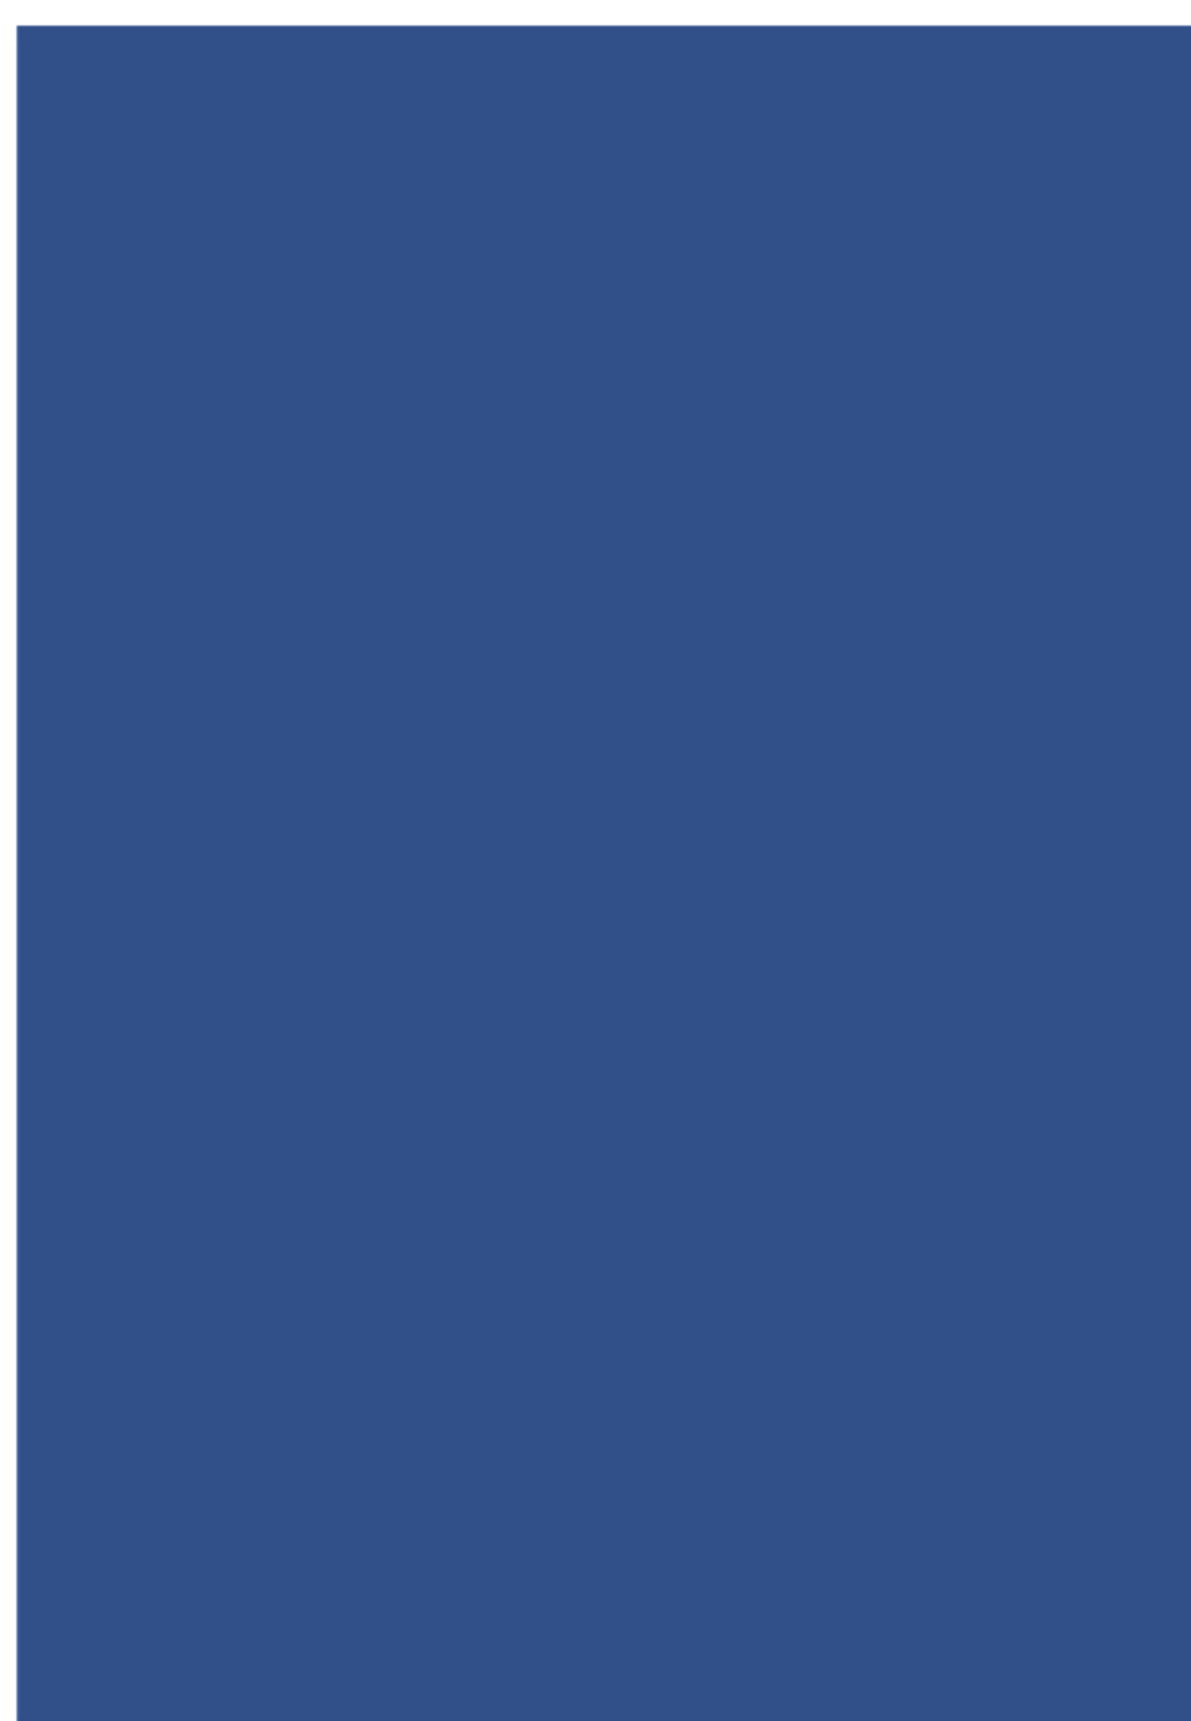

WORLD SCIENCE DAY FOR PEACE & DEVELOPMENT

World Science Day for Peace and Development is an international day that recognizes the importance of science in society and is observed on November 10 each year. It also emphasizes the importance of involving the general public in discussions about emerging scientific issues.

Science and peace are deeply interconnected, as scientific advancements have the potential to foster understanding, solve global challenges, and create a harmonious world. Through innovation, science addresses pressing issues such as climate change, food security, and health crises, paving the way for sustainable development and peaceful coexistence. It transcends borders, uniting nations in collaborative efforts to explore space, combat diseases, and develop renewable energy solutions.

Peace, in turn, provides the stability necessary for scientific progress, enabling researchers to share knowledge and work without fear. History demonstrates how science, when used ethically, has contributed to disarmament, conflict resolution, and building bridges between cultures.

To fully harness the power of science for peace, it is essential to prioritize education, equitable access to technology, and the ethical use of innovations. Together, science and peace form a virtuous cycle, inspiring a future where knowledge serves as a tool for unity and progress.

ARMISTICE DAY VETERANS' DAY

Celebrating The Heroes

Veterans Day commemorates the end of World War I and honors military personnel who have served in wars, particularly those who lost their lives. The day emphasizes peace and the lessons learned from war. In many countries, it serves as both a solemn reflection on past conflicts and a celebration of veterans' service. Memorials such as the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in France and the U.S. Arlington National Cemetery play central roles in these commemorations.

The Art of Strength: Karate's Rising Stars

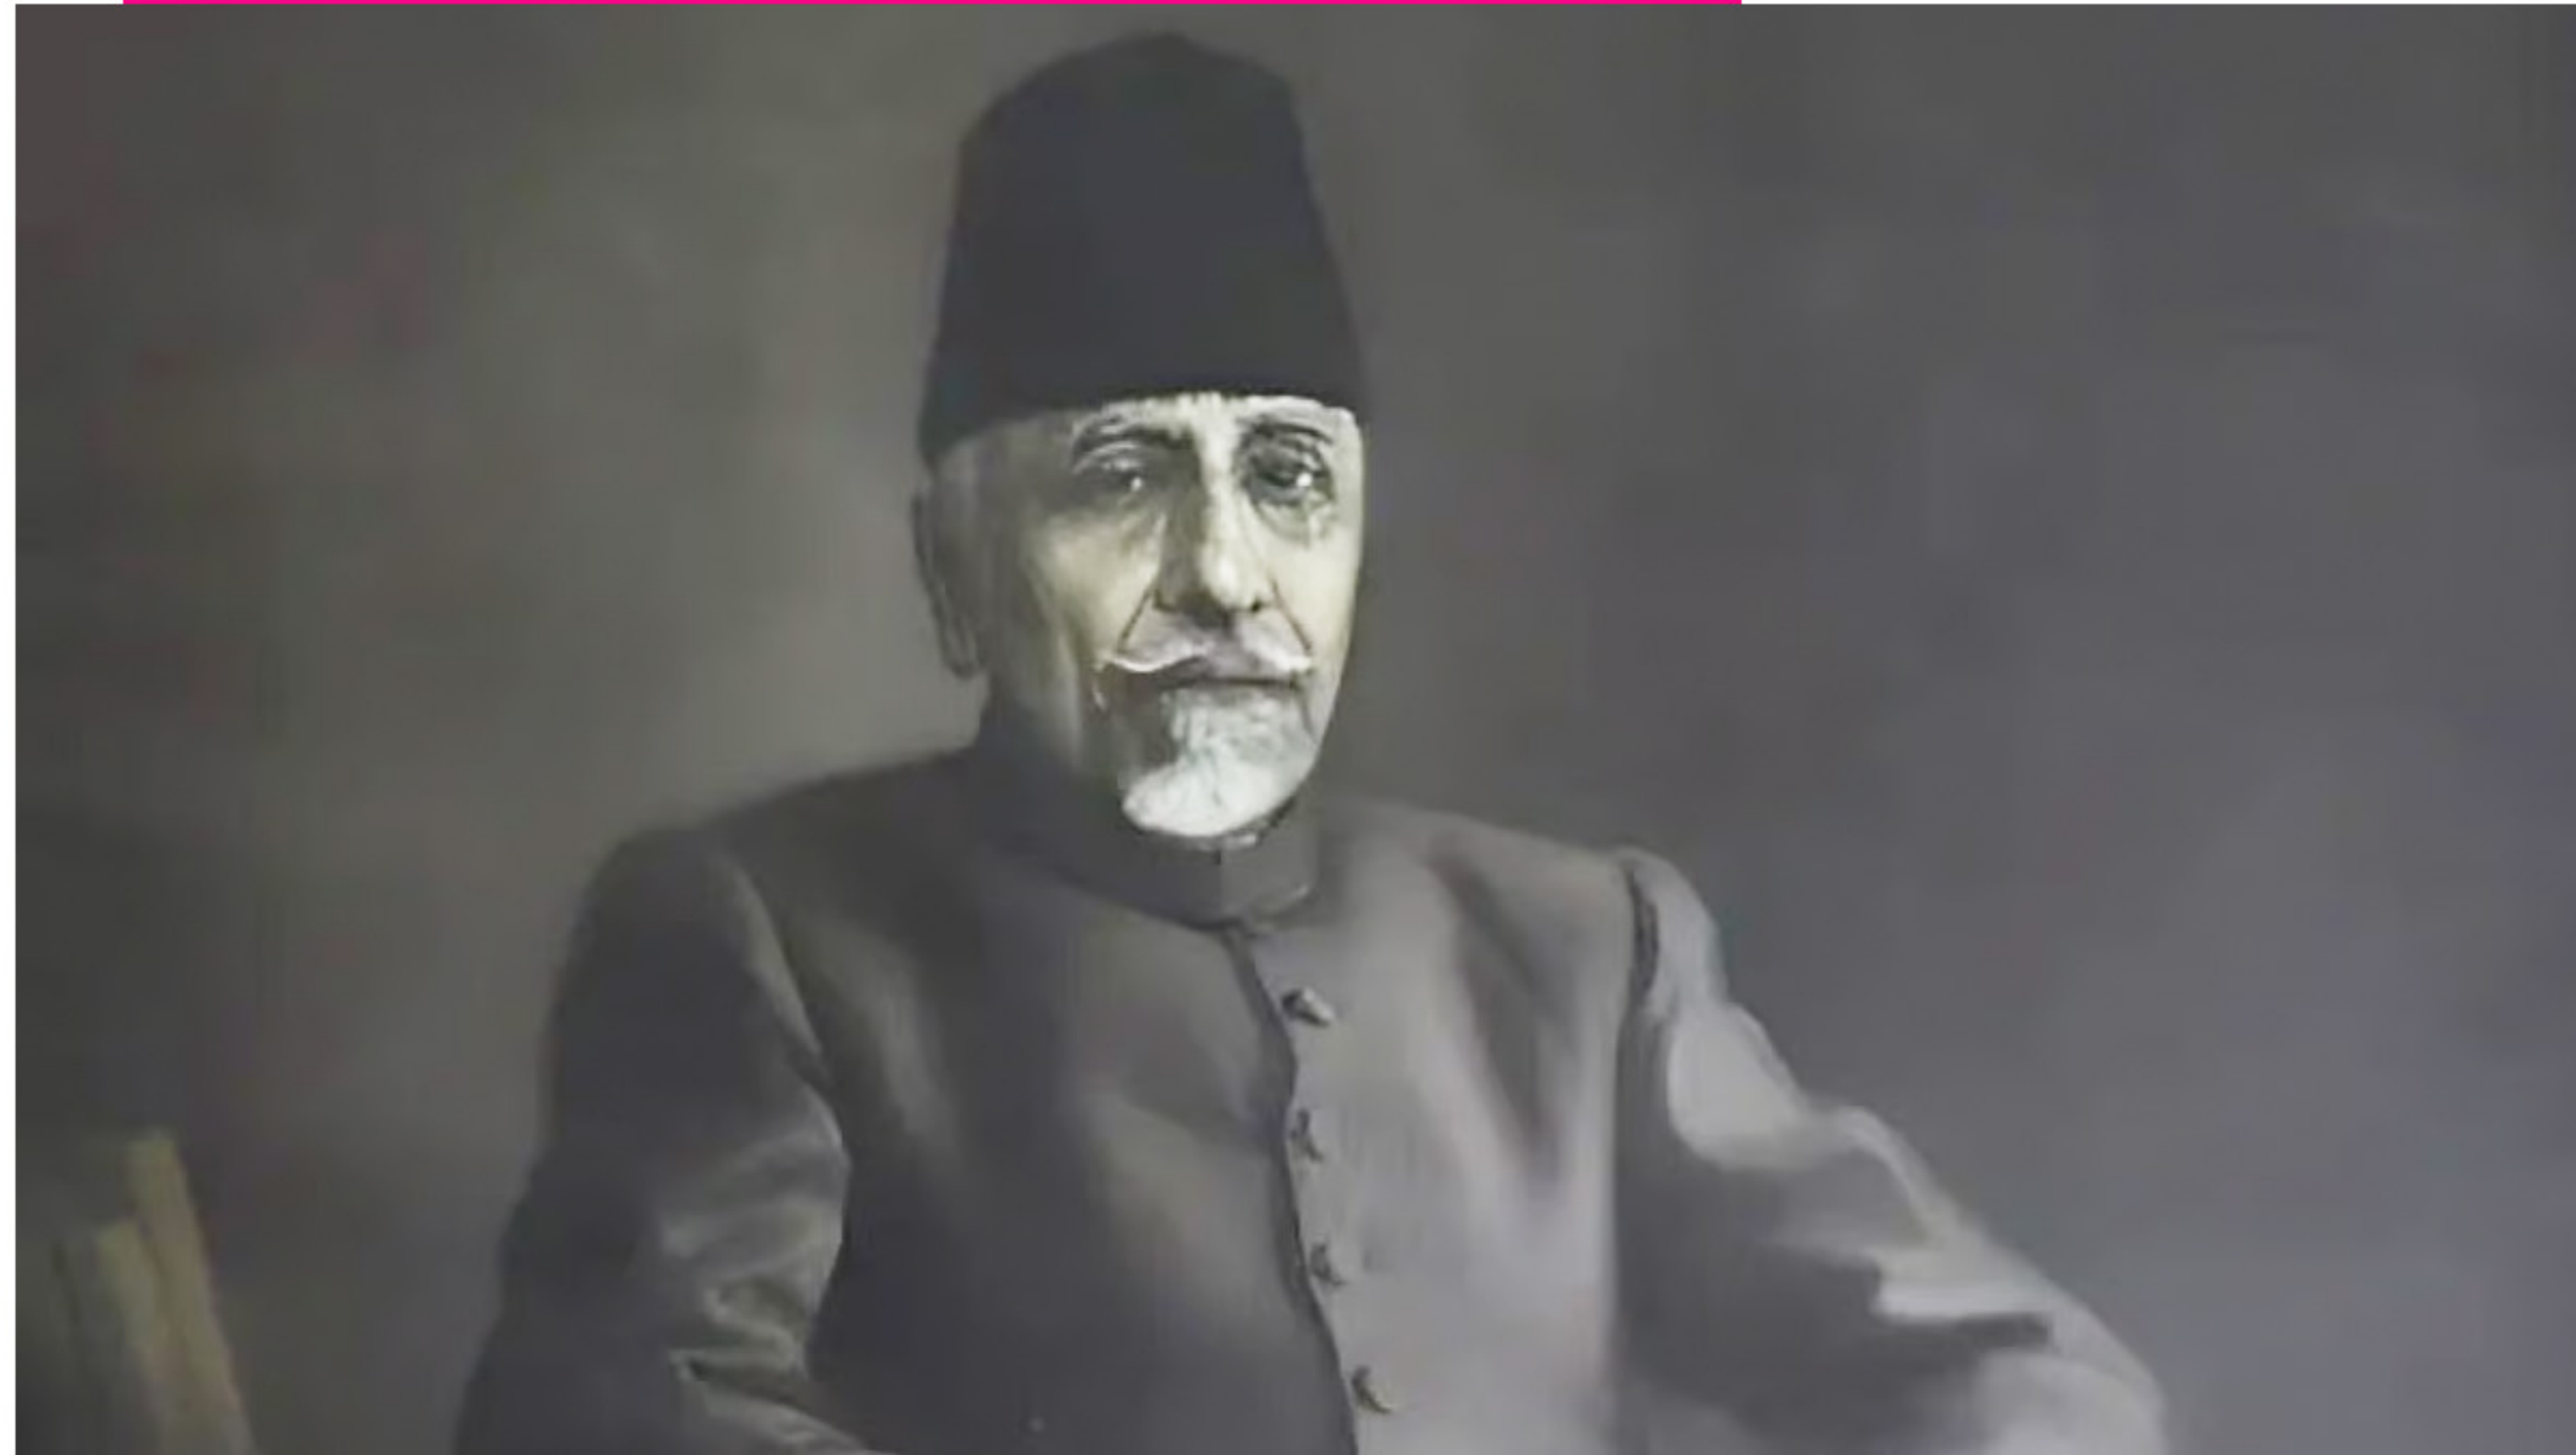

Karate is more than just a sport; it is a way of life that fosters respect, focus, and perseverance. Recently, a group of exceptionally talented young athletes showcased their remarkable skills in a karate competition, earning well-deserved victories. These young champions have devoted countless hours to practice, exemplifying the patience and commitment required to perfect their techniques. Through years of training and dedication, they have demonstrated not only physical strength but also the invaluable mental discipline that karate instills.

CHILDREN'S DAY

"Children are the hands by which we take hold of heaven." – Henry Ward Beecher

India celebrates Children's Day, or Bal Divas, every year on November 14th to honor the birth anniversary of Jawaharlal Nehru, India's first Prime Minister, born in 1889 in Allahabad, Uttar Pradesh. The day raises awareness about children's rights, care, and education, emphasizing Nehru's dedication to nurturing young minds and their future.

Little Hands, Big Dreams": A Rally of Hope on Children's Day

Children's Day celebrates the potential and dreams of young minds. This year, RPS School marked the occasion with an inspiring rally, "Little Hands, Big Dreams." Students carried banners with messages like "Save the Planet" and "Equal Education for All," demonstrating their understanding of global challenges and a commitment to change.

The rally, filled with slogans like "Every Child Counts!" and "Our Dreams, Our Future!" inspired onlookers, some joining in. Supported by teachers and parents, it became a lesson in active citizenship. The event concluded with performances and heartfelt speeches, where students shared aspirations of becoming doctors, scientists, and change-makers, showcasing the power of young dreams.

"Every child is a different kind of flower, and all together make this world a beautiful garden"

NEHRU'S VISION FOR CHILDREN

Empowering Minds, Shaping Futures

"Chacha Nehru": Nehru was affectionately called "Chacha Nehru" by children across India. His vision for children's education was centered around freedom of thought, creativity, and holistic growth.

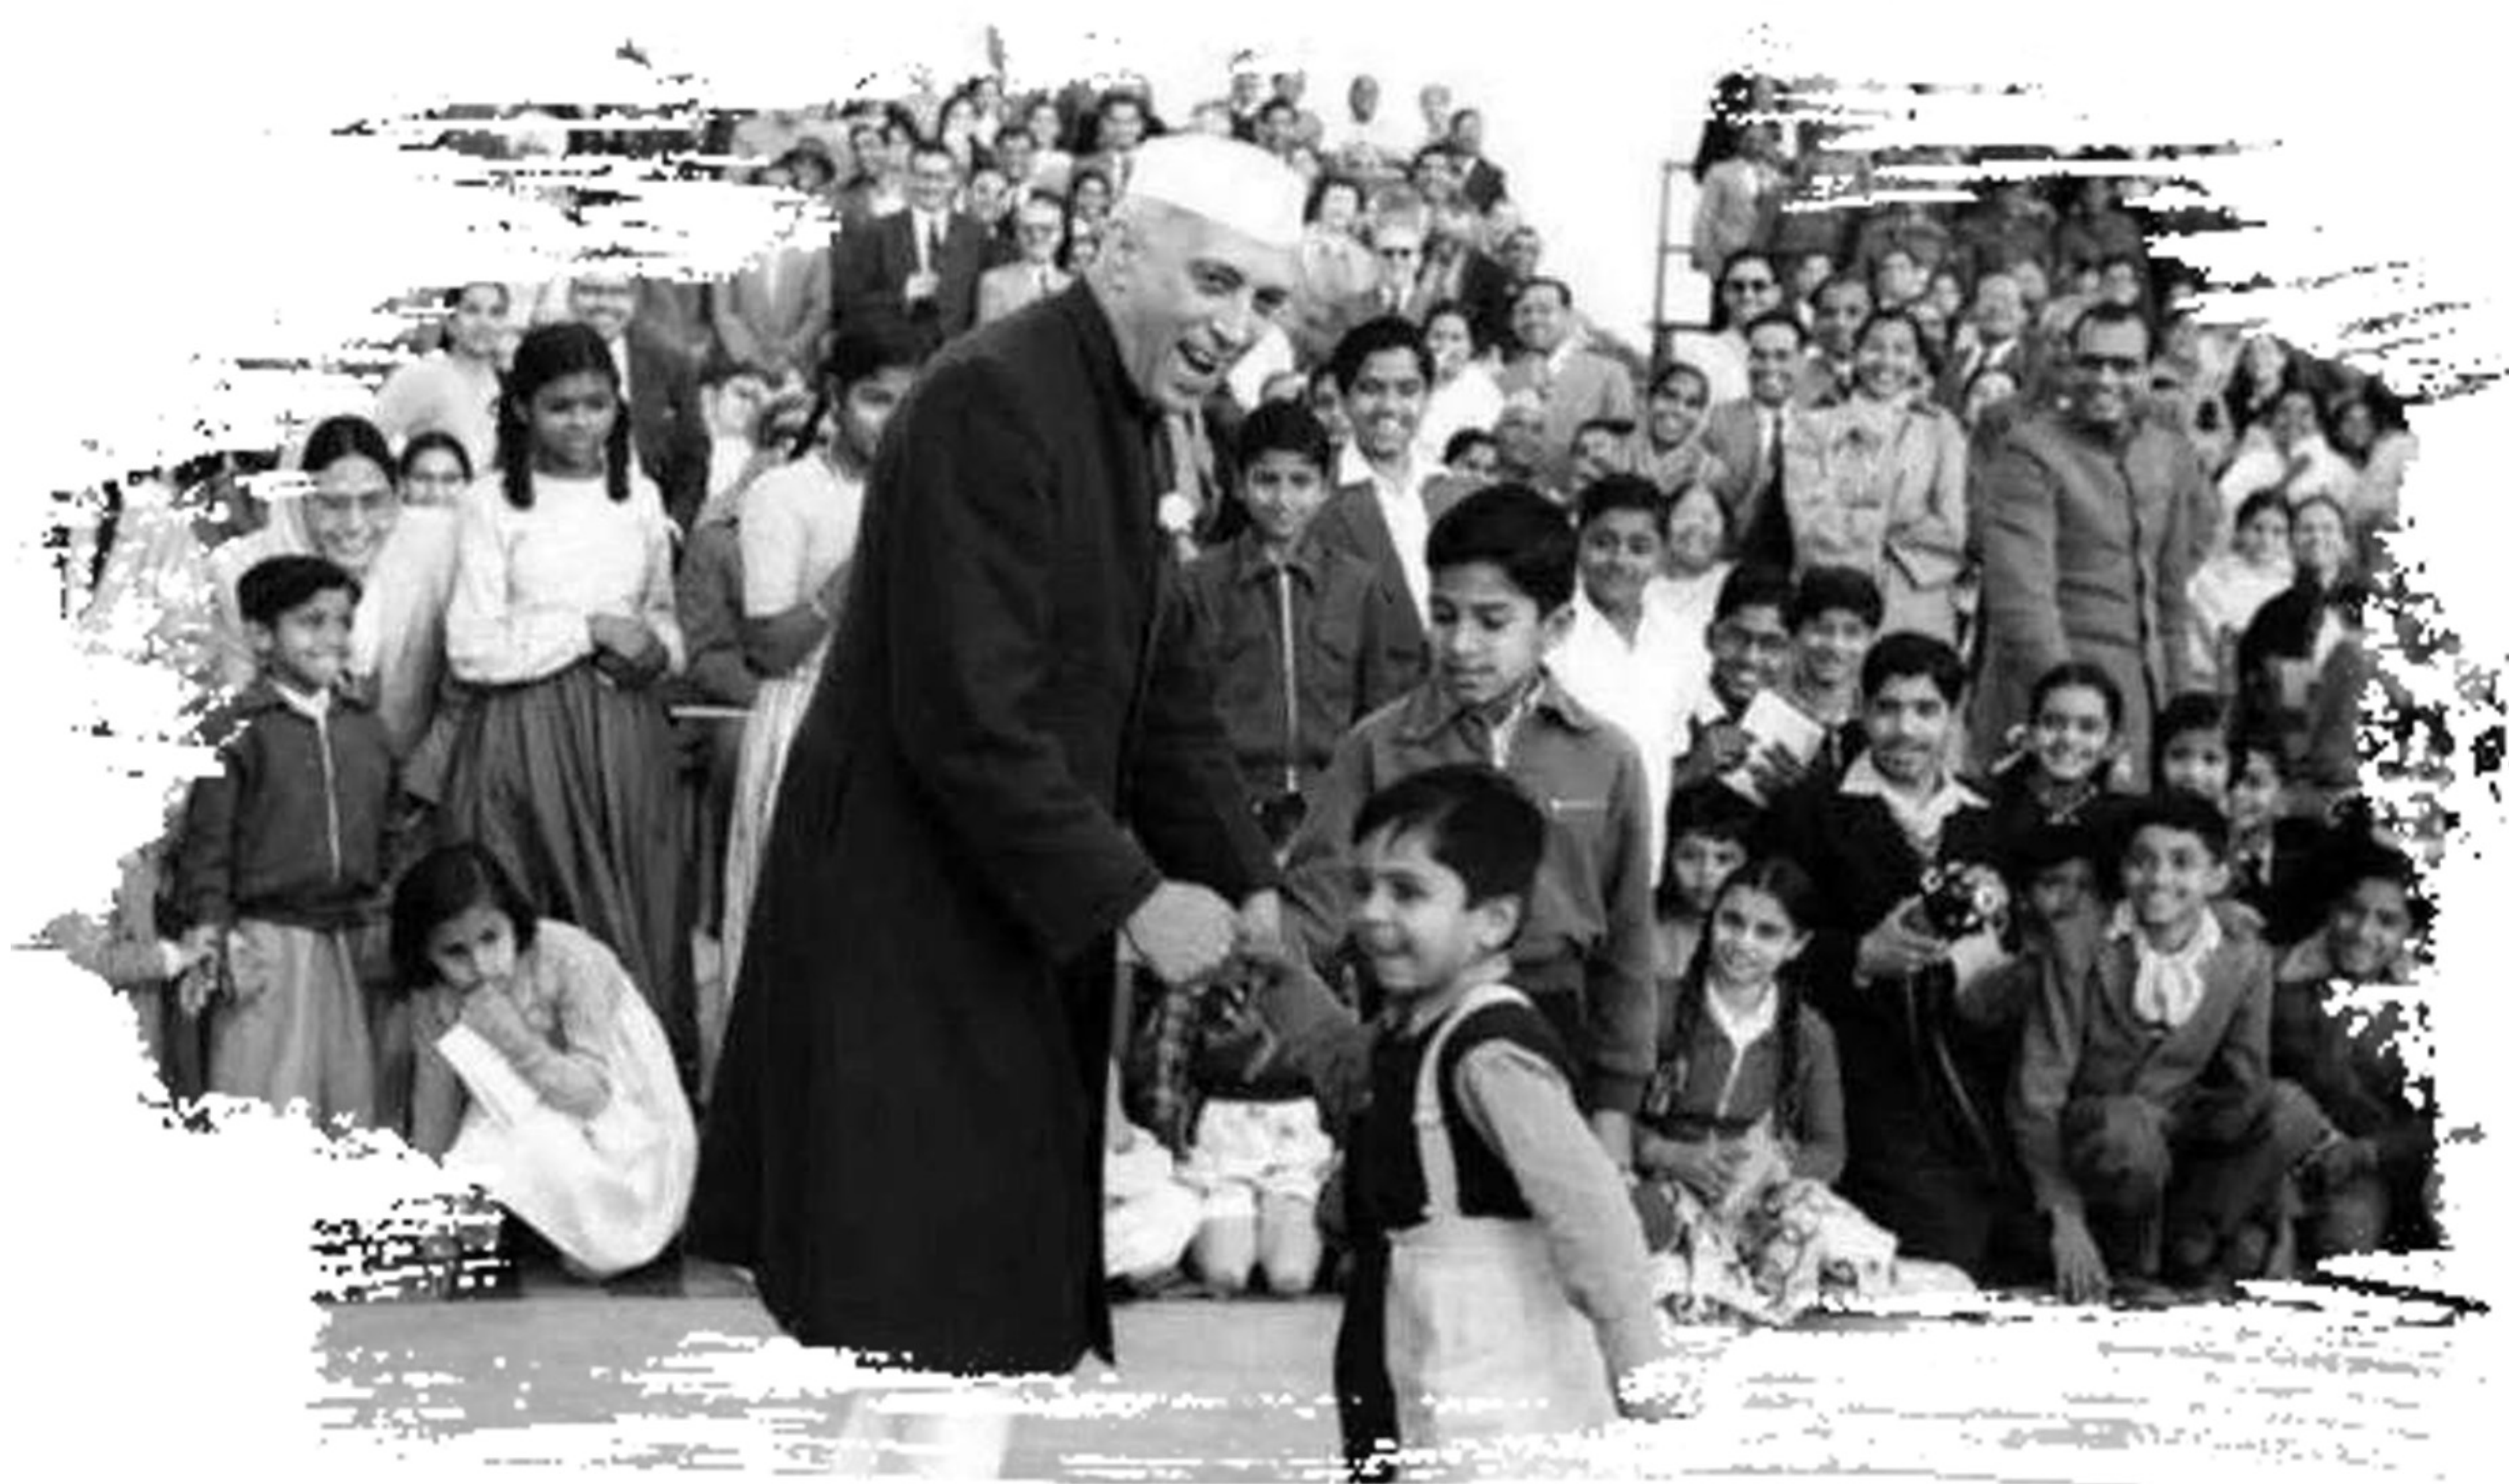

His policies supported the building of schools, promoting free and compulsory education, and fostering scientific and cultural progress.

Nehru had a passion for children's literature and wrote several books, including "The Discovery of India" and "Glimpses of World History."

NEHRU'S LEGACY IN MODERN INDIA

Scientific and Educational Development: Nehru established many institutions like IITs, AIIMS, and ISRO, focusing on science, technology, and education to shape India's future.

His legacy continues through his focus on secularism, development, and nurturing future generations.

FIELD TRIP TO THE CHILDREN'S TRAFFIC PARK

A MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE FOR GRADE 5 STUDENTS

Field trips are an essential part of experiential learning, and on 22 NOV 2024, the Grade 5 students of RATHINAM INTERNATIONAL PUBLIC SCHOOL embarked on an exciting educational visit to the Children's Traffic Park. This carefully planned excursion aimed to educate the students about traffic rules, road safety, and the importance of being responsible citizens while providing them with an opportunity to explore and learn outside the classroom.

INTRODUCTION

The day began with an interactive session conducted by the park's traffic safety instructors. They used child-friendly language and engaging demonstrations to introduce the students to basic traffic rules. Key topics covered included:

- The meaning of traffic signals (red, yellow, and green lights).
- Importance of wearing seatbelts while traveling in cars
- How to safely cross roads using zebra crossings.
- Significance of road signs like "No Parking," "Stop," & "Speed Limits."
- The dangers of jaywalking and distracted driving.

PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATIONS

The instructors then moved on to practical demonstrations using the park's mini road setups. The students were divided into small groups and actively participated in:

- Acting as pedestrians, learning to cross the roads responsibly.
- Riding bicycles and mini scooters to understand how drivers must follow traffic rules.
- Observing the proper functioning of traffic lights and roundabouts.

The hands-on approach ensured that the students not only understood but also remembered these vital lessons.

ROLE-PLAYING AND FUN ACTIVITIES

To make the learning experience more enjoyable, the children participated in role-playing activities. Some students took on the roles of traffic police officers, while others acted as drivers or pedestrians.

- The “traffic police” blew whistles and directed their classmates, ensuring they followed rules.
- Creative activities, like drawing and coloring traffic signs, added an artistic touch to the day.

These activities helped reinforce the concepts while allowing the students to have fun.

EXPLORING THE PARK

The students were taken on a guided tour of the park, which had:

- Miniature bridges and tunnels to simulate real-life road experiences.
- Interactive models of bus stops, railway crossings, and parking areas.
- Informational boards with tips on how to stay safe on the roads.

This tour highlighted the importance of infrastructure in road safety and gave the students a better understanding of how traffic systems work in real life.

THE NATIONAL CAKE DAY CELEBRATION

Purpose of the Event:

The National Cake Day celebration was organized by the Department of Catering Science and Hotel Management at Sri Ramakrishna College of Arts & Science. It aimed to promote creativity and hands-on learning for young minds.

Participants:

Grade II students from Rathinam International School actively participated, bringing energy and enthusiasm to the event.

Activities Conducted:

Students were introduced to the art of baking and cake decoration in the college's state-of-the-art Bakery Lab.

They learned about ingredients, baking techniques, and how to creatively decorate cakes with frosting, fruits, and other toppings.

Fun activities, such as decorating pre-baked cakes, were designed to engage students and foster their creativity.

Collaborative Learning:

The event provided an opportunity for the college students and faculty to mentor the younger students, creating a joyful and educational atmosphere.

Memorable Experience:

The day was filled with excitement as students explored the world of baking. They not only learned valuable skills but also took home cherished memories.

Outcome:

The event emphasized the importance of teamwork, creativity, and skill development while strengthening the bond between the college and school communities.

It was a truly enriching and delightful experience for all involved!

VISITED COCOPEAT AND COIRS MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY, NEGAMAM

The Grade 6 and 7 students of our school recently embarked on an educational field trip to a cocopeat and coir manufacturing industry in Negamam. The visit provided them with a hands-on learning experience about sustainable practices and eco-friendly production. Students observed how coconut husks are transformed into cocopeat, used in gardening and horticulture, and coir products like ropes and mats. They learned about the importance of recycling agricultural waste and the role these industries play in supporting the environment. This insightful trip not only enhanced their understanding of sustainability but also sparked curiosity about innovative uses of natural resources.
